Mary Kane

Join Mary Kane and Jane VanOsdol as they discuss the popular topic of Praying for Your Teens.

In this two-part podcast, Mary and Jane discuss the issues that affect teens' lives—and their parents'. They'll cover the topics of spiritual growth, physical safety, health, relationships, jobs, education and their futures.

The teen years are critical years for kids. Decisions they make now can affect them for better or for worse for years to come. Don't send your kids out "unprayed"! Learn how to pray for them as you traverse these years with them. Mary and Jane also feature several of their favorite resources that they've used through the teen years with their children.
